DR. WALFORD BODIE

Dr. WALFORD BODIE has been challenged by a well known local Electrician that he cannot pass 30,000 Volts through his body. Dr. BODIE will prove this by

"CAGE OF DEATH"

AND RISK INCINERATION.

This daring and foolhardy act was immortalised by Mr. Justice Darling in the High Court, London, where his Lordship's own Expert Electrician had to admit on his oath that DR. BODIE passed 30,000 volts through his body in the presence of 12 Jurymen and the Clerk of the Court, a feat he had never known anyone to accomplish or dare perform. DR. BODIE will make a direct contact with the LIVE WIRES and transform Galvanised Wire into MOLTEN METAL while the enormous current passes through his body—truly THE SIGHT OF A LIFETIME.

DR. BODIE invites the presence on the stage of 12 gentlemen well versed in Electricity to watch the experiment closely.

DR. WALFORD BODIE will also perform some MORE MIRACULOUS CURES.

STANDARD BAROMETER READING.

The following information is published in order that vessels in the Bombay Harbour may by comparison with a standard instrument ascertain the errors of their barometers:—

The reading of the Standard Barometer in the Colaba Observatory corrected for index error and reduced to 80 deg. F. and to the level of the tide, at 8.45 a.m., Standard Time on the 11th July 1916 was 29.910 inches. For temperature corrections applicable to mercurial barometer of ships the reading of the ships' barometer has to be increased or decreased by .031 inch for every 5 degrees according as the temperature of the attached thermometer is respectively below or above 80 deg. F. In case of the aneroid no temperature correction is needed. But for comparison at 80 deg. F. all aneroid readings should be increased by .138 inch. For correcting the ship's barometer either mercurial or aneroid for the height of the barometer cistern above the tide level in the stream at 8-45 a.m. Standard Time, the ship's barometer reading should be increased by .010 inch for every 10 feet of the height to make it comparable with the observatory barometer reading given.

HEALTHY HAIR HINTS.

The idea that baldness is a sign of intellectuality is fast being exploded.

The hair is not pushed out of the head by the great knowledge inside.

In fact many learned men use Kaminia Oil to prevent their hair from coming out.

They are succeeding with it, too;

So are many in all stages of intellectuality Available everywhere but it must be Kaminia Oil.

CALCUTTA TURF CLUB CASE.

MR. STEWART CROSS-EXAMINED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CALCUTTA, July 11.

At the High Court this afternoon before Mr. Justice Chaudhuri the further hearing of the suit brought by Nogendra Nath Dey against the Stewards and Secretary of the Turf Club, was resumed. In this case the plaintiff who had been warned off the turf, sued the defendants for a declaration that he was entitled to enter and use the Calcutta race course, for an injunction restraining the defendants from preventing him from entering the race course and for damages.

Mr. Charles Davis Stewart, one of the Stewards of the Turf Club, further cross-examined by Mr. Buckland, counsel for the plaintiff, said he remembered Bohemia winning at 2 to 1. He could not say that she ran again twice after that. In the January Plate and in the Elgin Plate she started at 3 to 2. There was no enquiry after that. Witness heard in conversation that the plaintiff had information about Bohemia. Mr. Bates did not suggest that the plaintiff had secret information. One could see the nature of a horse and judge for oneself. So long one did not bribe anybody to give any information there was nothing wrong in that. Witness did not hear at that conversation that the plaintiff had secret information improperly obtained. Witness did not remember any enquiry as regards Bohemia's running.

Continuing Mr. Stewart said:—I don't know whether the Racing Calendar is sent outside India. It is sent to Australia and is sold without restriction. I still say that the plaintiff bribed Budhu, the riding boy, with a bicycle in March in order to obtain information about Mr. Scott's horses. That was what we enquired about and that was the charge, and the notice of warning off was in respect of that charge. He was also charged with having a jockey at his house and bringing him information. Before the plaintiff was sent for the Turf Club had Mr. Hutchinson's statement and Mr. Scott's complaint before them.

Witness then stated that when the plaintiff appeared at the enquiry he admitted that the riding boy had been to his house and that the bicycle had changed hands. At first he said he never had any riding boy at his house and that he had never got any information from riding boys. He was not warned off on Mr. Scott's report only. The Stewards decided on the examination of the plaintiff. They had no positive evidence before them. After some more evidence was recorded the Court rose for the day.

DR. KRAMARZH CONDEMNED TO DEATH.

Telegrams from Vienna to the German newspapers announced in mail week that the wellknown Czech leader in the Austrian Reichsrat, Dr. Kramarzh, and three other prominent Czechs were condemned by Court-martial to be hanged.

Dr. Karmarzh was arrested on a charge of high treason at Prague in April, 1915. The trial began on December 6 and has thus lasted six months. Its result was a foregone conclusion, not because Dr. Kramarzh could in any sense be considered guilty, but because he had always been a resolute opponent of the Austro-German alliance and had constantly advocated close agreement between Austria-Hungary and Russia. In other words, he was one of the most powerful opponents of the gradual absorption of the Hapsburg Monarchy by Germany. It was not to be supposed that, at a moment when Austria-Hungary is in the grip of Germany, the German authorities of Austria would miss so favourable an opportunity of securing his "removal."

The Vienna correspondent of the Hamburg "Fremdenblatt," writing on May 3, before the announcement of the sentence, said that "but for the limitation of publicity necessitated by the war, the Kramarzh trial would have attracted as much attention as the Dreyfus affair." In "The Times" of May 3, its Paris Corresponde t drew attention to one of the methods employed by the Austrian military authorities to secure a condemnation. They found among Dr. Kramarzh's papers a copy of a letter he had written before the war to Prince Thun, then Lord Lieutenant of Bohemia, on the policy of Austria towards the Slavs. In translating it for the use of the Court-martial its text was falsified so that it might serve as proof of high treason. On the demand of Dr. Kramarzh, Prince Thun, however, produced the original letter, and convicted the Court-martial of deliberate use of forgery. But a trifle like this could not be expected to affect the verdict of Austrian military judges, who, in such cases, execute orders previously received from the political authorities.

It is interesting to recall the fact that the political career of Dr. Kramarzh was due to the decision of the Young Czech Party in 1879 to adopt a loyal and constitutional policy. In 1870 the Emperor Francis Joseph had promised autonomy to Bohemia and had made known his intention of being crowned King of Bohemia at Prague. Bismarck, Beust (then Austrian Imperial Chancellor), and Andrassy (then Hungarian Premier) joined hands to compel the Emperor to break his word. The Old Czech Party, led by Dr. Rieger, thereupon decided that, in sign of protest the Czechs would no longer send representatives to the Imperial Parliament. But, in 1879, the Emperor's friend, Count Taaffe, then Austrian Premier, persuaded the Young Czechs to return to political life. Dr. Kramarzh was one of their leaders. From 1880 until the outbreak of the war he played a prominent part in Austro-Hungarian politics, and was at one time Vice-President of the Chamber Though a strong Slavophil, he remained patriotically Austrian and favoured an internal policy that should give to the Austrian Slavs their due share of influence in home and foreign affairs.

F WARD CORPORATORS AND MR BHAGWANTRAO GANGADHAR.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE"

Sir,—Mr. Bhagwantrao has in the issue of the 5th instant, of the local "Times" under the heading "Bombay's Neglected Roads" tried in vain to lower Mr. Rahimtulla Currimbhoy and Dr. Batliwalla in public estimation as Corporators without making out any case against them.

He says, they never visit the Ward of their representation and further being the mouthpieces' of the dumb rate-payers never place their grievances before the Corporation by consulting them often. Is Mr. Bhagwantrao ignorant of the fact that Dr. Batliwalla is a resident of F. Ward for a number of years and that his chief practice as a medical attendant extends throughout the Ward? Is not Mr. Bhagwantrao aware of item No. 40, in this month's Municipal business agenda from Dr. Batliwalla for obtaining a report for the improvement of certain Roads of which Mr. Bhagwantrao complains? It is the experience of many that with the able co-operation of these two gentlemen many of the suggestions for public good of the city are promptly carried out by the Municipal authorities. If, as alleged they are not watching the interest of their Ward both of them would never have been able to get into the Standing Committee and that too Mr. Rahimtulla topping the list in the keen competition this year. Has this fact escaped Mr. Bhagwantrao's wily imagination?

Both the Corporators are accessible to any ordinary man and more so Dr. Batliwalla, as he resides in their very midst. It is not possible for a Corporator to go and consult each and every rate-payer who has not supported him at the time of election. Mr. Bhagwantrao was a candidate at the last election and the very fact of his being unsuccessful proves that the section of his supporters remains unrepresented and as such it is but natural that that section should have no voice in the Corporation. Most probably a third seat for F Ward will be sanctioned in the near future and then let Mr. Bhagwantrao try to get himself in as a Corporator and prove his mettle. It is not an easy thing to deserve the high honour of being a Corporator and having once acquired it by proving oneself worthy of same, still more difficult will it be to preserve its traditions.

Mr. Bhagwantrao's cherished object in denouncing the Corporators has not only become futile but exposed his own ignorance in the matter and made him an object of ridicule in the eyes of the critics.—Yours etc.,

R. G. MAHIMKER.

THE BOMBAY CHRONICLE.
Wednesday, July 12, 1916.

MYSTERIES OF THE TOUR CHARGES.

We have already dealt in a general way with the expenditure annually incurred by Viceregal and Gubernatorial tours, and have shown that there are features of this expenditure which require considerable explanation. A more detailed analysis brings out the need for further investigation more strongly; indeed it shows a really startling state of affairs and makes it clear that the Hon. Mr. Wacha was fully justified in bringing the matter to the notice of the Council. His description of these charges as showing "rather considerable extravagance" was, indeed, rather mild. But more than the question of actual and obvious extravagance, is that of the inexplicability, the mystery of some of the items shown. Of course, the point we are discussing is not the desirability or otherwise of these tours. That is another matter. What we desire to show is the need for very strict enquiry as to the manner in which such very high charges, particularly in the Bombay Presidency, have been incurred, and the casual sort of way in which the accounts of this lavish disposal of public money are exhibited to the public.

Pursuing our analysis of the charges of the Governor-General and the various Provincial administrations from 1909-10 to 1913-14, for which complete accounts are available to the public, we may give the details as classified by the Finance Department under seven broad heads. These are:—(1) Tour and extra allowances to clerks and servants; (2) travelling allowances; (3) special trains; (4) bullock trains; (5) purchase and repairs of tents, camp furniture, etc.; (6) temporary establishments; (7) miscellaneous. It will be seen from the charges specified below under the above heads that the largest are comprised under the head of special trains, next come the purchase of tents, camp furniture, etc., and, lastly "miscellaneous." We take the first and last years of the quinquennium for purposes of comparison.

	In lakhs of rupees. 1909-10.	1913-14.
Tour and extra allowances to clerks, etc.	0.03	0.37
Travelling allowances	1.38	1.25
Special trains	1.63	3.32
Bullock trains	0.66	1.33
Purchase and repairs of tents, camp furniture, etc.	0.86	1.40
Temporary establishments...	0.19	0.10
Miscellaneous	1.67	1.70
Total	6.47	9.47

The reader will notice from the above the same increase of 3 lakhs that we pointed out in our last article, but classified according to heads, and not according to provinces. The increase as before observed is fully 50 per cent. The decreases are noticeable only in two items, namely travelling allowances and temporary establishments, but these are of a negligible character. The largest item of increase is to be discovered in "Special trains." No one will question that the Viceroy who is the representative of the Crown in India must travel far and wide, and therefore needs special trains to carry him from one part to another during a tour season. Below we give the figures of Viceregal Specials for the five years:—

	Lakhs.
1909-10	1.23
1910-11	0.98
1911-12	1.84
1912-13	1.22
1913-14	1.99

It will be seen that the largest cost was incurred in two years, namely 1911-12 and 1913-14. The former year, it should be remembered, was the historical one when the King-Emperor and his Consort visited India for the Coronation Durbar. The expenses of special trains on their account cannot be grudged. Neither need we grudge that incurred, as much as 1.99 lakhs, in 1913-14, when the late Viceroy had to make an extensive tour which had to be postponed in the previous year. The special charges of the other provinces most noticeable are those incurred by Bengal and the Punjab uniformly. The last had for 1913-14, Rs. 34,798, against Rs. 16,973 in 1909-10. The newly created province of Behar and Orissa had to their account Rs. 20,555 in 1912-13, Rs. 34,481 in the year 1913-14. It seems Bombay did not indulge much in the luxury of special trains for the first four years of the quinquennium:—

	Rs.
1909-10	2,344
1910-11	958
1911-12	2,460
1912-13	1,791
1913-14	19,168

Why in the last year the charges have jumped up to Rs. 19,168 from the annual average of only 1888 for the previous years is a conundrum which the Revenue Member or the Accountant-General may perhaps to able to explain We now come to the purchase and repairs of tents and camp furniture and establishment Here, Bombay, apart from the Governor-General, attracts our pointed attention. There is no province in India which incurs from year to year so large a charge under this head systematically as the "rich kingdom of Bombay." We place in juxtaposition the Viceregal charges under this head and those of Bombay for the five years embraced by this review:—

Purchase of tents and their repairs, of camp kit, etc.

	In lakhs of rupees. Viceregal.	Bombay.
1909-10	0.18	0.42
1910-11	1.19	0.42
1911-12	0.44	0.44
1912-13	0.62	0.41
1913-14	0.51	0.47
	2.94	2.16
Annual average	0.59	0.43

It is not only a matter of wonderment but for searching investigation why Bombay should spend annually for her Governor's tents, etc., an average of Rs. 43,000 when the camp of the Viceroy costs only Rs. 59,000 or Rs. 16,000 more. The only possible inference is that there is some one greatly interested in selling tents and camp furniture to the Governor of Bombay for his annual tour at an average of Rs. 43,000? One can very well understand the wants and requirements of a Viceroy; but what can be the extraordinary requirements which systematically demand from the provincial revenue year in and year out Rs. 43,000? The public has a right to demand an explanation. The item seems exceedingly suspicious. The yearly charges of the Viceroy's camp under this head do not cause any suspicion at all, seeing that they are fluctuating. In one year they came to only 19,000; in another to 51,000, and in another to 62,000! For purposes of comparison, we give below the charges on account of the purchase of tents, etc., of the principal provinces for the five years, apart from Bombay. The difference between the expenditure incurred in Bombay and in other provinces under this head is astounding:—

In thousand rupees.	1909-10	1910-11	1911-12	1912-13	1913-14
Bengal	0.05	0.06	0.05	0.04	0.02
U. Provinces.	0.01	0.03	0.06	0.07	0.02
Punjab ...	0.09	0.10	0.09	0.12	0.13
Madras ...	0.02	0.05	0.18	0.02	0.03

Comment is superfluous. Only the Punjab needs to be looked after. It has gone on increasing its purchases from 9 to 13,000 in five years! Let the Lieutenant-Governor institute inquiries. We now come to the last head called "Miscelleneous." What miscellaneous items are compressed under this general head, it is difficult to guess, especially when under the other six heads we have in all conscience apprehended the biggest and the most important charges. We first give below the charges per se and shall then notice which are the provinces that have incurred the largest expenses under this nondescript head:—

Miscellaneous tour charges.

In lakh of rupees.
1909-10	1.67	1912-13	1.77
1910-11	1.31	1913-14	1.70
1911-12	1.65		8.10
Annual average			1.62

So here, even more than in the case of purchases of tents, etc., we are brought face to face with an annual charge of 1.62 lakh of rupees for which we are not given any particulars! What can they be? Will the Finance Department particularise them in future years to satisfy public curiosity.

Here are the names of the provinces which have incurred large sums on "Miscellaneous":—

In thousands of rupees.	1909.	1910.	1911	1912	1913
Viceroy	0.83	0.38	0.60	0.83	0.42
U. Provinces.	0.31	0.13	0.23	0.05	0.18
Punjab ...	0.12	0.21	0.04	0.04	0.29
Bombay ...	0.24	0.34	0.21	0.26	0.37
Assam	—	—	—	0.21	3.04

It will be noticed that in the provinces above named, all save Bombay, have incurred miscellaneous charges which have greatly fluctuated; so, too, those on account of the Viceregal Camp which have averaged Rs. 61,000 per annum. The average of the United Provinces was 18,000, of the Punjab 14,000; but that of Bombay was Rs. 28,000! We again inquire, why? Altogether, the public which is looking for economies, large and small, in every direction of the spending departments of the State, are entitled to know something more of the mysterious charges incurred on these tours to which we hope we have attracted sufficient attention in these columns. There is full matter for inquiry both by the Finance Department and the Comptroller-General of Accounts.

Notes of the Day.

Amazing Misrepresentation.

A correspondent, who apparently hides an official identity under a Latin tag, opens a letter to the "Times of India" as follows:—

On June 27th last a letter headed "Mr Muzumdar and the College of Commerce" appeared in the "Bombay Chronicle." The article contained a number of misstatements and misleading suggestions. A gentleman whose name is well-known throughout India wherever commercial education is concerned, and who happens at the same time to be intimately connected with Sydenham College, immediately took steps to have a correction inserted. Your contemporary, however, has steadily declined either to print his communications or to make any retraction of its own.

So far as the accusation against us, contained in the above, is concerned, it is totally unfounded. We made no misstatements or no misleading suggestions and the only communication sent to us, which could answer the description given, was not inserted, because it was irrelevant to the issue and unnecessarily personal. We have not "steadily declined to retract." We have not retracted, nor do we propose to retract, because we have nothing to retract. And we have nothing to correct. But we shall have a great deal more to say on the subject at a convenient time.

Mr. Hasan Imam and a Magistrate.

How indissolubly the permanence of British rule in the country is bound up with its tradition of free and unfettered justice was demonstrated in the course of the hearing of an application for bail for an accused Zemindar before the Patna High Court last week. Mr. Hasan Imam, lately Judge of the Calcutta High Court, who argued in support of the application was compelled to state that "peace and prosperity in this country were due to just administration, but if they were to have magistrates like this man, they would as well do without British Rule in India." That these remarks of Mr. Hasan Imam were perfectly justified is apparent from the fact that the Chief Justice, who was at first inclined to dismiss the application, relying on the conclusions arrived at by the Magistrate, ended by granting it and thanking Mr. Hasan Imam for pointing out the objectionable passages in the Magistrate's judgment. The Magistrate, it may be mentioned, had refused bail to the applicant who is one of twenty accused in a case of rioting. Eighteen of these accused were released on bail by him on the ground of insufficient accommodation in jail. The applicant was refused bail as he appeared to the Magistrate to be the ringleader.

Magistrate's Amazing Remarks.

The Sessions Judge upheld the Magistrate's order. In the Magistrate's judgment the following passage occurs:—

"This is a charge of rioting with deadly weapons. The High Courts have unfortunately held that the lathi, however murderous it may prove in its practical use, is not a deadly weapon."

It was not necessary for Mr. Hasan Imam to point out that the High Courts had never said so. Mr. Hasan Imam read a further passage which shows what little sanity there was in the Magistrate's order:—

"The lathi may not be a deadly weapon in the eyes of their Lordships, who probably never saw one used, but it is a weapon which is more dangerous and is far too commonly employed. I would ask the Upper Court, if it finds the accused guilty to inflict the heaviest sentence which is warranted by the facts as finally established, and which lies within its power to impose; and not to have any mercy or regard for the particular accused, remembering that the safety and the well-being of the public are at stake."

Well might Mr. Hasan Imam say that in his twenty-five years experience he had never come across such conduct as this. The Chief Justice, in granting the application thanked Mr. Hasan Imam and said that "it now seemed to him that the case against the accused might not be a strong one and the Magistrate by these improper remarks was trying to make it appear very strong."

Notes and Silver.

It should be noticed that the note circulation in India has risen by 4.32 crores between the 7th June last and the 3rd instant. On the latter date the Currency Department recorded 71.40 crores against 67.08 crores on the former date. That is indeed a considerable increase within four weeks. Necessarily the actual amount of silver coin and bullion in the Indian treasury has increased by 4.80 crores, while there is an accession to the gold coins of 19 lakhs. On the other hand, against this increase of 4.99 crores, there has been a diminution of 13 lakhs of silver coins in the treasury of the Secretary of State in England and a diminution of 54 lakhs in silver bullion under coinage in India. Gold coin and gold securities in England and securities in India have remained unchanged. The net result, therefore, is the increase of 4.32 crores in note circulation. The principal feature of the past month is that there is a growing accumulation of silver, though the bullion under coinage has been diminished by 54 lakhs. We are now in the midst of the slack season.

The Share Market.

Money is abundant. There is a cash balance of nearly 20 crores between the Bengal and Bombay banks. Investors have a fine time of it, while it is a golden opportunity to start new companies of an industrial character. But we have also to count with the bulls and the bears of our share market, euphoniously dignified by the name of "Stock Exchange" to which it has only a nominal resemblance. It will be years before it can arrive at the stage of the London Stock Exchange or the bourses of Paris and Berlin. Meanwhile rain is reported to be fairly good in different parts of the country, which has given a buoyancy to the cotton and cloth markets. Mill shares, with a fair prospect of moderate dividends within the next few weeks, are also rising; but it is to be devoutly hoped there will not be ushered in unhealthy speculation of a character the very reverse of bona fide. Ignorant investors are a flock of geese and need to be taken care of lest they should be plucked by the birds of prey of the share market.

Economic Development in Japan.

The "Statesman" publishes an interview with Prof. J. C. Hamilton, Lecturer in Economics, who has just returned to India after a four months visit to Japan on special deputation on behalf of the Government of India to study the recent economic development in that country and the lessons it has to teach India. Prof Hamilton would specially emphasise the commercial and industrial profits which Japan has earned as a result of the war. "Perhaps the outstanding fact of the economic position in Japan at the moment," he says,

"is the very large number of orders which the merchants and manufacturers in that country are receiving from all parts of the world owing to the war. I do not mean for war material, but for all kinds of goods which Germany and other European countries are unable to supply. This enormous demand is affording Japan an opportunity of advancing a definite stage in economic development. Her great advantage has hitherto been, and still is, an abundant supply of cheap and on the whole efficient labour; while her chief handicaps have been lack of capital and lack of the higher types of business organisation. The profits from the new industries are helping to swell her capital, and the development of business is enabling her to pass from the stage of small scale cottage industry in many instances to the stage of large scale factory industry."

All classes of the community including the Government and the banks, as well as the private business men he adds, are straining every nerve to consolidate the position they have gained, and, in particular, efforts are being made to open up new markets like China that may be permanent.

Lessons for India.

The predominant impression, in fact, is that Japan has not missed any opportunity to strike the iron while it is hot—to her lasting benefit. And the lessons that she has to teach to India are many and various. They are, says Prof. Hamilton, full of interest. They show what energy and careful organisation can do in a country with comparatively small natural resources and little opportunities for obtaining industrial knowledge. Most interesting is it to see the way in which the cottage industries of Japan are utilising every kind of raw material at their disposal for some kind of definite purpose. It is still the members of the farmers' household or the cottage dwellers of the towns who are doing most of the industrial work of Japan, and it is from these beginnings that the large scale enterprises are gradually being built up.

And Prof Hamilton rightly concludes that if India is to advance industrially it must on the whole expect to tread the same path. "Great undertakings and new industries cannot be born fully developed out of good intentions. They must come as actual growths from existing beginnings in the majority of cases. What is necessary in India is that every encouragement and every facility should be given to make this development possible and profitable." And yet all this is so obvious that one feels that it was not necessary to go to Japan to learn the lesson. For what is needed at the moment is not more talk but more action.

A Gift to Parsis of Karachi.

Mr. Jehangir H. Kothari, till recently a member of the Bombay Legislative Council and a prominent citizen of Karachi, has laid the Parsi community of his city under a deep obligation by presenting them with a beautiful hall, which has been attached to the local Parsi Institute. The hall, which has been named after the generous donor, was formally opened by Mr. W. H. Lucas, C.S.I., Commissioner in Sind, on the 1st instant before a large gathering of Parsis. Mr. Lucas appropriately referred to Mr. Kothari's various acts of benevolence and his public spirit. Mr. Kothari was the first Parsi from Sind to be appointed to the Legislative Council. Since the Imperial Indian War and Relief Fund was inaugurated, Mr. Kothari, as the Honorary Secretary and Treasurer of the Sind Branch, has been a zealous worker and has transmitted to Bombay over four lakhs in subscriptions from his province.

A Noteworthy Experiment in Education.

The State of Travancore, which has made primary education compulsory and free, has just sanctioned an interesting experiment in the direction of combining literary with industrial education. The Director of Public Instruction, who was asked to report on the question, has suggested that weaving, grass-mat making, sugar manufacture, and coir-work might be taught as additional subjects in the private industrial schools which will be encouraged by grants-in-aid to pupils of Standard III and above of departmental Elementary Schools. Arrangements have been made to start six private industrial schools contiguous to these departmental elementary schools. A noteworthy feature of the scheme is that instead of teaching all the industries mentioned, only the one that is locally carried on will be taught in the industrial school attached to the elementary school of the locality,—the aim rightly kept in view being to develop local industries.

ALLEGATIONS AGAINST A SUBORDINATE JUDGE.

STORY OF A BRIBE OF RS. 100.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

ALLAHABAD, July 11.

An enquiry into the charges of corruption against Mr. Gokul Prasad, late Subordinate Judge of Allahabad, commenced to-day in the Mayo Hall before Messrs. Mahomed Ali and Ireland, Commissioners appointed by Government.

Mr Ross Alston lead the prosecution and Mr. George Jackson of Lucknow defended. Mr. Alston opened the enquiry by giving a brief sketch of various charges against the Sub-Judge. The first charge was in connection with the suit of Mussamat Mandar v. Bhagwandas in which the Sub-Judge was charged, with, on or about 17th September 1914, accepting a bribe of Rs. 100 from the plaintiff's brother, Mahadeo Prasad, as motive for giving the decree in favour of the plaintiff.

Mahadeo Prasad examined by Mr. Alston said that the day before the case a man came to him and asked witness to accompany him to the Sub-Judge's house. The man said the thirst for blood could not be quenched with water and, if the witness gave a "nazarana" the case would be settled. He said Rs. 100 would do. After putting the money together the witness went with the man to the house on City Road where witness saw the Sub-Judge who said Rs. 100 was too little for so big a case and demanded Rs. 200. Eventually he agreed to take Rs. 100, which was paid to the man in the presence of the Judge. Next day the case was heard and a few days after was decided against witness. The sister of the witness went to the house of the Sub-Judge to complain but was threatened with police and told to go away.

The enquiry is proceeding.

The capture of Biache is most important. It brings the French within a mile of Peronne, a vital point in the enemy's railway communications north and south.

General Haig reports particularly severe fighting in Trones Wood. The British gained a lodgement in Memetz wood and gained ground east of Ovillers and La Boiselle.

DOMINATES GREAT ENEMY RAILWAY CENTRE.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL WAR SERVICE.)

LONDON, July 10.

LAST HILL ON SOMME TAKEN.

GREAT TACTICAL IMPORTANCE OF THE CAPTURE.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL WAR SERVICE.)

PARIS, July 11.

A semi-official statement lays stress on the great tactical importance of the capture of Hill 97, south-east of Biaches. It places the French in possession of the last hill before the river Somme. It is less than a mile from the Peronne-Chaulnes line and dominates the Somme valley. Moreover, it enables the French to see everything that happens at Peronne.

IMPORTANT BRITISH VICTORY.

SEVERE FIGHT FOR TRONES WOOD.

ENEMY COMPLETELY DEFEATED.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM)

LONDON, July 10.

General Haig reports particularly severe fighting in Trones Wood the southern end of which we captured on the 8th instant since when we have driven back several German counter-attacks in mass with heavy enemy losses.

Trones Wood, which is two miles east of Montauban, is triangular in shape. It measures four hundred yards from north to south and has a southern base of 6,400 yards. The Germans had strongly defended it with trenches and wire entanglements.

After a heavy bombardment we captured the southern end and subsequently extended our positions towards the north, driving back a determined counter-attack with heavy enemy losses. The enemy yesterday made two counter-attacks in mass which our artillery fire crushed.

The enemy yesterday evening bombarded the wood with all natures of armaments and then hurled two more strong attacks from the east and south-east.

GUNS AND PRISONERS CAPTURED.

The first was completely repulsed and the second penetrated the southern end, but the enemy were immediately ejected with heavy losses. Later, a fifth desperate attempt to drive us out was also completely crushed by our fire. The enemy's casualties were severe.

We progressed at other places on the battlefront and captured north-west of Contalmaison three more guns and hundreds of prisoners.

The enemy's artillery has been active on the Flanders front, especially at Hooge.

FIGHTING IN TRONES WOOD.

BRITISH ENTER MEMETZ WOOD.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM)

LONDON, July 11.

General Haig reports that in the afternoon after a sixth desperate attack the Germans succeeded in entering Trones wood at the expense of very heavy casualties. Fighting in the wood continues. Further west we gained a lodgment in Mametz wood where the enemy's defence had hitherto resisted our efforts. We also gained ground east of Ovillers and La Boiselle.

Our aviators yesterday carried out several successful bombing attacks against various detraining centres, ammunition depots and aerodromes. Numerous aerial combats occurred in which several enemy machines were driven down and damaged.

TRIBUTE TO ROYAL FLYING CORPS.

HOLD COMPLETE MASTERY OF AIR.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL WAR SERVICE.)

LONDON, July 10.

A tribute to the work of the Royal Flying Corps on the Somme is paid by Reuter's representative at Headquarters, who says, that mastery in the air was never so completely ours.

Enemy airmen have been somewhat demoralised by recent disasters and ours have harassed the Germans to such an extent, that the latter have been unable to discover where the present offensive is likely to develop.

Fokkers have been quite outclassed. The position is such that the Flying Corps is virtually unmolested now during reconnaissances, except by anti-aircraft guns.

ADVANCING WITH FOOTBALLS

17 GERMANS DISPOSED OF BY ONE FOOTBALLER.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL WAR SERVICE.)

LONDON, July 11.

Reuter's special correspondent in France describes the experiences of a battalion of the East Surrey Regiment. One of the battalions was selected to start the attack on July 1st. Each platoon was supplied with a football and the commanders kicked off. The officers and men dropped rapidly but the dribbling continued and two balls were actually kicked into the German trenches when the bayonets got to work. The balls were recovered and will be preserved as trophies at the depot. One footballer blew seventeen Germans. Another handed his rifle to a comrade and polished off a boche with his fists. He explained, "The bloke was too old to shoot and too thin to the bayonet." The East Surrey captured a machine-gun which they promptly turned on the Germans, devastating an ammunition column.

FIGHTING ON THE STOKHOD

GERMANS APPREHENSIVE.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM)

JOHANNESBURG, July 10.

The Bishop of Pretoria, writing of a two months' visit to the troops in German East Africa, eulogises the work of the Indian Railway Corps in constructing a railway to Moshi. Goodness knows, he says, how we should have fared without it. He also pays a high tribute to the Indian troops.

A GERMAN SUBMARINE MERCHANTMAN!

ARRIVES AT BALTIMORE WITH DYESTUFFS.

INTERESTING LEGAL POSITION.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, July 10.

A German submarine has arrived at Baltimore with a valuable cargo of dyestuffs. Twenty miles off the coast she was chased by British and French cruisers and they delayed her arrival for four days.

NEW YORK, July 10.

The submarine is called the Deutschland. She left a German port on June 23rd under Captain Kairig, with a crew of twenty-nine and a cargo of a thousand tons, a quantity of mail and a message to Dr. Wilson from the Kaiser.

The Deutschland is a submarine of a thousand tons. She measures three hundred feet by forty and has a speed of fourteen knots on the surface. She travelled eighteen hundred miles submerged.

The Deutschland was met off Norfolk Harbour by a tug. An interesting legal position has been raised by question of the submarine's status.

WASHINGTON, July 10.

Government circles are disposed to consider the Deutschland a commercial vessel and not a warship, but it is recognised that complicated points are likely to arise.

NEW YORK, July 10.

The Deutschland's cargo was consigned to Schumacher and Company, Baltimore agents for the North German Lloyd. The manager asserts that the submarine is an unarmed merchantman.

A submarine officer has denied that they were chased by warships and said that they saw no British or French ships.

NEW YORK, July 11.

The captain of the Deutschland denies that he had a message for President Wilson from the Kaiser.

"MERELY AN ORDINARY SUBMARINE."

NOTHING NEW ABOUT THE FEAT.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM)

LONDON, July 11.

An Admiralty official interviewed with regard to the Deutschland pointed out that its feat was nothing new since ten British submarines built in Canada crossed the Atlantic last summer.

It was known that the Deutschland was merely an ordinary submarine with its fighting equipment removed. The idea of submarine traders was ridiculous.

The fact that Germany had to crawl under the sea was the finest demonstration of the efficiency of the blockade.

BRITISH PRISONERS AT RUHLEBEN.

INSUFFICIENT FEEDING DENIED BY GERMANY.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM)

LONDON, July 10.

In the Commons Lord Robert Cecil said that the German Note denied that British prisoners at Ruhleben were insufficiently fed and rejected the proposal for the exchange of prisoners but made a further proposal.

The Imperial Government was considering its reply, and meanwhile was making further inquiry into the conditions at Ruhleben.

QUESTION OF IMPERIAL COUNCIL BEING CONSIDERED.

Mr. Bonar Law said that the Imperial and Dominion Governments were seriously considering the question of an Imperial Council, but a statement was impossible at present.

An American medical man's report about his investigations into the food of the prisoners at Ruhleben, appears on page 8.

MOHAMMERAH-KHORAMABAD RAILWAY.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, July 10.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM)

LONDON, July 10.

INDIAN TEA ASSOCIATION.

QUESTION OF EXCESS PROFITS DUTY.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM)

LONDON, July 10.

Presiding at the annual meeting of the Indian Tea Association, Mr. James Warren announced that he was acting in conjunction with the Ceylon Association in negotiations with the Imperial Government regarding the excess profits duty. He had urged that the industry was entitled to increase its statutory percentage owing to the long period that it had to wait before profits had been made, and to many risks of tropical agriculture. He argued that individual companies should be allowed to apply for special relief to a board of referees, the board using its discretion when extraordinary circumstances were shown.

Mr. James Steel was elected Chairman, and Mr. G. Kingsley Vice-Chairman.

A PRISONER'S GRATITUDE.

BRITISH "LOVE AND CARE" FOR A WOUNDED GERMAN.

The following is a translation of a letter addressed by a German prisoner—of the Reserve Infantry Regiment—to his relatives:—

IN A BRITISH HOSPITAL,
12-5-16.

My dear M——, My dear Children,
My dear Mother,

How terribly will the expression "prisoner" echo in your ears. But your anxiety will be needless for to tell the truth I have hitherto not been treated as a prisoner, but have received nothing but love and care for my wounds, which are severe, and everything is done for me to relieve my pain—in fact every thing that can be done for a wounded man. Therefore, my dear ones, respect our enemies! I always had a great dread of falling into English hands, but now that fate has overcome me I have learned better, and I see no trace of anything but tender love on the part of my former enemies.

My food could not be better than it is, although I can eat very little; I have a splendid dinner every day, plenty of meat and potatoes beautifully cooked. They give me almost too much, but for the sake of good manners I eat it till it is all finished. Tea does not suit me, so coffee is specially prepared for me, and it tastes as good, dear M——, as if you had made it with your own hands. Could a wounded prisoner ask for anything better? Do you, therefore, show nothing but kindness towards our wounded enemies, particularly Englishmen, if you happen to meet any on your journeys; treat them kindly, and remember how much they are doing for me here.

I shall never during my whole life forget the kindness of my doctor and his assistants, the nurses and orderlies, and I shall think of them gratefully when the peace bells peel on every side. Now, my faithful M——, and all of you, we will pray to God, Who has hitherto led me by His grace. Just now I asked a sergeant here to give me a forget-me-not; I have got it already, and tears of joy come to my eyes, for I know what pleasure it will give to you. Now farewell, all of you; may God's mercy be upon us. Receive loving greetings and kisses of your father.

ALLEGED THEFT OF S. AND T. GOODS.

MR. GAINSFORD REPUDIATES ALLEGATIONS.

REMOVAL OF STORES IN BROADDAY LIGHT.

At the Esplanade Police Court, yesterday, the Chief Presidency Magistrate resumed the hearing of the case in which Inspector Shaw charged John G. Smith, Inspector, R. I. M., Thomas Robert Earle, sergeant, Thomas Herbert Guest, sergeant, and Ignatius D. Furtado, store foreman, with the theft of goods, valued at Rs. 1,870, belonging to the Supply and Transport Corps. Superintendent Sullivan of the C. I. D., assisted by Inspectors Jeffries and Doran, conducted the prosecution, while Mr. P. Godinho and Mr. B. J. Dhondi, defended Smith, and Mr. N. N. Saher defended Guest and Furtado.

MR. GAINSFORD'S AFFIDAVIT.

At the outset, Mr. H. A. H. Payne presented an affidavit on behalf of his client, Mr. Frederic Gainsford, in the course of which the latter alleged that in a report of the proceedings of the case was included evidence given by one Dinshaw C. Cooper, a stevedore, who was reported to have made certain statements introducing the name of himself (applicant) and his son, as negotiators for the sale of the property alleged to be stolen in this case. The said statements were absolutely untrue and were highly injurious to the applicant and his son. He (applicant) arrived in Bombay on the 8th instant at 12-45 p.m. and went straight to the Court, saw Superintendent Sullivan and offered to make a voluntary statement to the Court, repudiating the allegations made in the reported statement of Cooper. Superintendent Sullivan put him into the witness-box and an oath was administered to him but he was not permitted to make a statement. He (applicant) submitted that the false allegations contained in the evidence of Cooper recorded by the Court and published in the newspapers were calculated to cause him (applicant) serious injury, especially in his business and that it was absolutely necessary both in the interests of justice and those of himself and his son that he should be allowed to deny them as early as possible. He therefore prayed that the Court would be pleased to permit him either to offer himself as a witness or would itself examine him for the purpose of enabling him to declare the truth with regard to the allegations.

A BROAD HINT TO CLEAR HIMSELF.

Mr. Payne said Mr. Gainsford was a contractor of Government and naturally the report, if uncontradicted, would do him a lot of harm. In fact Mr. Gainsford had received a broad hint to clear himself. He could not himself come into the witness-box to clear himself if the prosecution did not call him as a witness, and he therefore asked the Court to examine him as a witness.

The Magistrate said that if Mr. Gainsford wanted to clear his character he might do so by filing an affidavit but he did not think the proposed procedure was sanctioned by the Procedure Code. His duty was to record evidence with a view to find out the truth in the case and not with a view to give a particular witness, who had not been called, an opportunity of clearing his character.

Mr. Payne submitted that the statements in question had reference to the case itself, and his client wanted to give relevant evidence with a view to show that certain evidence was false. He had sworn that he would give relevant evidence which would assist the Court to judge the credibility of a witness who had given evidence in the case

AFFIDAVIT TO BE RECORDED.

Teh Magistrate said the prosecution was not bound to examine every witness at once. They had first to make out a prima facie case and after their witnesses had been cross-examined, they had to decide whether they should call the remaining witness or not. If, after that, a witness, who was not called, wanted to be examined it would be for the Court to decide what to do. But that stage had not been reached in the present case. The only thing that could be done now was to file Mr. Gainsford's affidavit on record. He the (Magistrate) could not at that stage make any order as to the examination of the applicant.

THE STORY OF "TRAMP STEAMERS."

The case was then proceeded with.

Kinnaird Henderson, cross-examined by Mr. Saher, said he had not passed any store out of the Alexandra Dock. What he had stated about the Gainsfords in the examination-in-chief and in the cross-exdmination was correct. Mr. Gainsford junior knew the prices because it was in his line. The Gainsfords knew that he was in Government service. He never told them that he was going to dispose of R.I.M. goods, but told them that he wanted to get rid of some stores that had arrived by some private tramp steamers. He told Cooper that if he did not buy them he would sell them by public auction. He said this to him to put some pressure on him. The Venus stores should have gone to No. 11 shed but by mistake they went to No. 7 shed. They were then ordered to be removed to No. 11 shed. Witness got delivery of these goods at No. 7 shed from Sampson. Guest told him to go and get them. Witness did not know whether this accused was in charge of anything. He removed the stores from No. 7 shed in broad daylight. It took two days to remove them to No. 11 shed where they remained for three weeks. Witness had once seen Smith roll up a box of Fry's chocolates in a piece of paper to be carried outside.

PRICKS OF CONSCIENCE.

On the day in question after he went for a drive his conscience pricked him and he gave up the idea of going too near the Town Hall for the carts. He decided to be King's evidence three or four days after his arrest. In his statement to the Police he at first confessed to his part in the transaction and did not involve the others in it until he found that they had informed against him.

The further hearing was adjourned till to-day.

THE SYDENHAM COLLEGE OF COMMERCE AND ECONOMICS.

To THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE"

Sir,—We, a few patriotic students of this college, read with great regret the letter which appeared in the "Bombay Chronicle" on Thursday last, and which expounded certain irresponsible remarks about the qualifications of a few professors of the college. We naturally felt exceedingly sorry for our dear professors were thus underrated by some foolish persons. Put gold in fire and melt it as many times as you like, yet it will not lose its intrinsic value. So, too, the merits of our professors will in no way be affected by these useless remarks. We assure the readers that neither our able, popular and noble Principal, nor our excellent staff, will in the least be annoyed.

As a mouthpiece of the utterances of the good boys of the college, we shall try to give here our sincerest and unbiassed opinion about the qualifications and the merits of our Principal and our staff. The degree with which our Principal Anstey identifies himself with the cause of the students, the strenuousness of his intellectual labour, the capacity to organize a vast institution like the Sydenham College, and above all the popularity he has won from the Indian students, and the success which the college has had till now, all go to prove that it is a boon for the college to have secured an able Principal like Prof. Anstey.

We are sure that those persons who have written the letter do not really know what kind of scholar and amiable teacher, M. Tannan is. It is an undoubted fact that Mr. Tannan takes so much pains, not only to train students in such a way as to make them bring credit to the institution in which they are trained, and also to the Professor under whom they study special or rather optional subjects. On what grounds do they commit themselves so meanly by saying that Mr. Tannan is not fit to lecture in Advanced Banking? It is very unjust, ignoble and ungentlemanly on their part to pass such reckless remarks. We heard that such remarks were passed against Mr. Tannan simply because he observed strict discipline in the Hostel of the Sydenham College. Well, this is the basest retort one can think of. Is the observance of discipline a ground to question the merits of a person? We are afraid this is a foolish criterion of judgment.

We note an indirect insult to Mr. Davar in this letter. Your readers should know that Mr. Davar did not accept this half-time lectureship in the college for financial reasons. He came into our college only upon Principal Anstey's request and our request. The college is blessed to have the Principal of another commercial college on the staff of this college. Besides, we are fortunate to have a lecturer like Mr. Davar with 16 years' experience in imparting commercial education and who has visited England a dozezn times or more!

In conclusion, we appeal to your readers that most probably these irresponsible remarks might not have been made by any student of the Sydenham College. Surely it is an outsider, who has thought to discourage eminent men from coming and lecturing to us. Of course, already one of the professors of the college is weakened by Mr. Muzumdar's resignation. We hope there will be no more resignations and loss to the college. We will pretty soon organize a protest meeting to detect the culprit.—Yours, etc.,

SIR PERTAB SINGH INTERVIEWED.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL WAR SERVICE.)

LONDON, July 9.

Interviewed by the New York "Sun" Sir Pertab Singh said that he hoped soon to charge the Germans at the head of his Lancers and die for the King-Emperor, whom the Indian Chiefs regarded as a second god. They would serve him even in the ranks if necessary and would also send their sons.

The interviewer remarked that Sir Pertab's sons were very young to fight. Sir Pertab retorted:—The Prince of Wales is fighting. He is not so very much older.

Sir Pertab indignantly denied the stories of sedition in India. Only low-caste irresponsible persons preached sedition. Under the Indian Government, Chiefs were secure, prosperous and loyal, and there was no danger of trouble in India.

THE COLABA MOTOR SMASH.

POLICE OFFICERS' EVIDENCE.

WHAT INSPECTOR SPIERS FOUND IN ACCUSED'S CAR.

At the Esplanade Police Court, yesterday, the Third Presidency Magistrate, resumed the hearing of the case in which Inspector Spiers charged Mr. L. R. Hearn, an engineer in the employ of the Bombay Port Trust, with driving his motor car in such a rash and negligent manner as to endanger human safety. Mr. E. Ferrers Nicholson, Public Prosecutor, appeared to prosecute, while Mr. J. D. Davar with Mr. P. Godinho and Mr. DeCruz defended the accused. Mr. K. F. Nariman appeared to watch the proceedings on behalf of Bapuji Anklesaria, driver of a taxi car.

Mr. Geldart, cross-examined by Mr. Davar, said he had been driving motor cars since last October. He drove in crowded localities frequently. He could not say that as a rule hack victoria drivers drove more to the centre of the road than to the extreme left. Some of them drove more in the middle, and some on the side. The minority, and not the majority, had a tendency to drive in the middle. He had driven on Queen's Road very often. According to his experience of that road the hack victoria drivers did not hug to the lamp post, nor did they hug to the extreme left. On this particular occasion the accused was overtaking the traffic on the wrong side. He went more on the wrong side than was necessary. Inspector Spiers asked witness to give evidence in this case. He gave no information to the police.

THE SKIDDING MARKS.

Sub-Inspector Shirazi, examined by Mr. Nicholson, said that on the 17th June he went down to the scene of the collision, where he saw two cars. He did not see the accused there. The Commissioner came there and took measurements. Witness also took measurements. He saw marks of skidding on the road. The marks must have been caused by the smaller car. They began on the east side of the road. The cut on the road was from 2½ to 3 feet. He found considerable damage to both cars. There were no marks on the off-side of the accused's car.

Cross-examined by Mr. Davar, the witness said he could not tell whether the skidding marks were caused by the impact or the jamming on the brakes. Wodehouse Road was an ordinary macadam road and had no tarred surface. The skid marks indicated as if the small car had swerved towards the back of the taxi. The injured man had already been removed when witness went to the scene of the collision.

Mr. James Smith, an engineer, examined by Mr. Nicholson, said he resided in Khatau Bhavan on Wodehouse Road. On the day in question he was in a garrage when he heard a smash and overlooked a crowd running towards the Colaba station. He joined the crowd and ran to the scene of the collision where he saw the accused and Mr. King. He saw Mr. Binnie bleeding. This was three minutes after the collision. Two men were holding the injured gentleman, who was bleeding badly and who, people said, would die. Then Dr. Kothawala came up and attended to the injured man. Two nurses subsequently came up.

ACCUSED'S EXCITEMENT.

Cross-examined by Mr. Davar the witness said the accused seemed to be very excited and was using abusive language towards the taxi-cab driver. The latter was not there then. When witness left the scene of the collision, the accused was there, and Dr. Kothawala and two nurses were doing all they could for the injured man. When he heard the impact witness climbed over the wall and was at the scene within three minutes of the collision.

Questioned by the Court, the witness said that when he (witness) left the scene of the collision, the accused was walking away from the scene.

FIND IN THE ACCUSED CAR.

Inspector Spiers, examined by Mr. Nicholson, said that he took measurements. The Commissioner had also done so. Witness saw a rut there which the small car had made and which commenced near the buildings on the east side of the road. There were no marks of collision on the off-side of the small car. He asked people there if anybody had seen the collision but nobody came forward. The accused was not there then. Witness knew Mr. King to whose house he went after the collision. He entered Mr. King's house, where he found the accused lying across two cots, with his face down. The accused was in his shirt and drawers and was asleep. Witness woke him up and asked him if he was injured. The accused pointed to a cut on his lip. In the accused's car witness found two empty flasks of whisky, one bottle of beer and six bottles some full and others empty, of soda water.

Cross-examined by Mr. Davar, the witness said the length of the skid was about three or four feet; it might be six inches more in length. The hand-bag containing the flasks was quite open. As he picked it up from the car he smelt whisky. He first got the smell of whisky and then he pulled out the bag. The cork of one of the flasks of whisky was off when he saw it. There was no cork on the other flask. The smell and the labels showed it was whisky. There was a little whisky in one of the flasks. The cork of the other flask was in the box containing soda water bottles.

The Magistrate enquired if the accused had gone on a picnic on the day in question.

Mr. Davar said the accused has been to Ghorebunder.

Mr. Spiers, further cross-examined by Mr. Davar said the accused replied to his questions very excitedly and put the blame on the taxi-driver. The accused went to the Police station at night and his statement was taken down by Mr. Shirazi.

The further hearing was adjourned to Wednesday.

MRS. BESANT AND BOMBAY GOVERNMENT.

MADRAS PRESS COMMENTS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

(Delayed in Transmission.)

MADRAS, July 10.

Commenting on the Bombay Government's Order under Rule 3 of the Defence of India Act served on Mrs. Besant to-day, the "Hindu" writes:—Mrs. Besant has preserved an attitude of unswerving loyalty to the British rule and has, we believe, contributed largely to the War Fund and has consistently striven to uphold and aid the cause of the Allies by her writings and speeches. Her policy in this respect is not open to doubt. Even where her political views regarding India have aroused difference of opinion and even hostility, the bulk of intelligent and enlightened Indian opinion has believed in her loyalty and steadfastness to the cause of the Allies and it would view with extreme regret the Order of the Bombay Government taking a different view for undisclosed reasons.

Commenting on the Order, Mrs. Besant writes in "New India:" "I wonder it does not strike our rulers that they cannot stop the desire for Home Rule by showing how objectionable is the other rule and the more they try to strike me thus the more resolved does India become to win freedom from such tyranny."

SALE OF ANILINE DYES AT MADRAS.

BOMBAY MERCHANTS NOT ALLOWED TO BID.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

MADRAS, July 11.

At an auction sale of a large quantity of alizarine and aniline dyes, from s. s. Barenfelds, which took place under instructions from Messrs. Gordon, Woodroffe and Co., acting on behalf of the Alexandra Prize Court, people from Bombay and the Central Provinces were disallowed to bid as a circular issued by the agents and approved by the Government of India, said that bidding at the auction of dyes originally consigned to dealers and users in Madras, was restricted to consumers in the Madras Presidency. This Prize Court had also promulgated another rule to the effect that successful bidders should give a guarantee that the dyes purchased would be used for dyeing and not for re-sale. A keg of alizarine 1 cwt. nett 16 per cent., which went for Rs. 35 before the war fetched Rs. 1,400 in one case and the price on an average was Rs. 1,000.

SENTENCE ON A SUBORDINATE JUDGE

CHIEF COURT'S DECISION.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

LAHORE, July 11.

Sir Donald Johnstone, Chief Justice, and Mr. Justice Broadway to-day pronounced orders in what is known as the Lyallpur bribery appeals in which Maulvi Barkat Ali, late Sub-Judge, Lyallpur, was convicted by Mr. Strickland, Special Magistrate, Lyallpur, on two charges under section 161, Indian Penal Code, for having received illegal gratification and sentenced to two years' imprisonment on each count, both sentences running concurrently.

Their Lordships acquitted the appellant on the first count in which he was alleged to have decided a point of limitation in favour of one Ganga Sahai on receiving a bribe of Rs. 150 from his agent Bhoopamal.

The appeal in the second case in which the appellant was charged with having ordered the arrest of a defendant before judgment on receipt of a bribe of Rs. 250 from one Devidatta was, however, dismissed by their Lordships.

CALCUTTA INTERNMENT CASE

COUNSEL'S ARGUMENTS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CALCUTTA, July 11.

At the High Court to-day before Mr. Justice Chaudhuri, Mr. Norton renewed his application on behalf of K. P. Patel and four other inhabitants of Surat who had been interned here under Ordinances 3 and 5 of 1914 for their release. Sir S. P. Sinha opposed the application.

The applicants used to carry on business in South Africa. On their arrival here their persons were searched and some sovereigns and nuggets of gold were found. They were then arrested and interned in the Alipore Jail. No warrant was produced nor any order shown to them.

Mr. Norton submitted that Ordinances 3 and 5 were not legally in force as there could not be any Ordinance for a longer period than six months. Mr. Norton's next point was that the Governor-General in Council held no power to make any Ordinance to provide any legislation which was in conflict with section 22 of the India Council Act. No local authority in India could tamper with the allegiance of subjects or the sovereignty of the crown. Counsel then said that under Ordinance 5 there must be a distinct statement of the acts of persons connected, which were prejudicial to the State. It was a very grave thing, dealing with the liberty of subjects and they had no right to give go-by to the words of the Act. In this case no definite purpose was alleged.

Sir S. P. Sinha, for the Crown, in reply, said there were good laws and bad laws and their Lordships had to deal with both and administer them equally. It was not for a Judge to consider the policy of the law and it was idle for a counsel to discuss any such policy in any court of justice. Regarding the Ordinances counsel said that Mr. Norton had made a curious misrepresentation of section 23. Those Ordinances had been made enactments of the Legislative Council of India and they must be on the Statute book. As regards the question of their authority of suspending the Habeas Corpus Act, counsel said it had been settled by a long course of decisions that legislation of this kind was perfectly within the competence of the Indian Legislature. As regards the unsufficiency of the return Sir S. P. Sinha said that Ordinances 3 and 5 of 1914 were a sort of schedule to the Act of 1915. That Act had been followed in detail and when that had been done the Court had no power to interfere. His Lordship reserved judgment.

NEXT CONGRESS PRESIDENT-SHIP.

THE "PUNJABEE" ON CLAIMS OF NOMINEES.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

LAHORE, July 11.

Referring to the selection of President of the next Indian National Congress the "Punjabee" in the course of a leading article writes:—

"As we have said times without number the presidentship of the Congress, being the highest honour which it is in the power of a country to bestow upon any of its sons, should as a rule be conferred not in anticipation of services to be rendered, but in recognition of the services actually rendered. It should, on no account, be conferred on a person whose views in respect of burning questions are either uncertain or unknown to his countrymen. If these general principles are accepted, Sir Ali Imam's claim for presidentship becomes extremely doubtful. On the other hand, Mr. Ambikacharan Majumdar, though in every way eminently fitted to be a Congress president, labours under the disqualification of belonging to a province which has furnished the Congress with two successive presidents. Of the remaining six the most acceptable names are those of Mrs. Besant, Mr. Achariar, Mr. Hassan Imam, and Mr. Mazharul Haque. But there is in our opinion one whose claims are quite as great, as, if not greater, than those of any of these four. We refer to Sir Subramaniya Iyer, the grand old man of the Southern Presidency, who has been a congressman ever since the Congress was founded, who enjoys a reputation for soundness, integrity, and independence which is not inferior to that of any other congressmen whose views on every public question and especially the most burning of all questions—Self-Government—are well-known and who is held in equal esteem by the Government and the people. Sir Subramaniya Iyer would have made an admirable president last year. He would make an equally admirable president this year.

THE EAST INDIES STATION NAVAL FUND.

To THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE"

Sir,—May we once again bring before the notice of your readers our great need of literature to send to our sailors attached to H. M. Ships serving on the East Indies Stations?

A few months ago we had many generous gifts of books and magazines and were consequently able to comply with the numerous demands we received.

Very few gifts have lately come to hand, the appeals have increased from every direction and our bookshelves are all but empty. We are not at present able to supply the quantity of literature which is so much wanted by our sailors, to help to lessen the monotony of the very trying war conditions which they are living through month after month.

We earnestly appeal for gifts of literature and hope that your readers will be able to help us by sending contributions, even single books, magazines, etc., will be thankfully received, and should be sent to the office of the East Indies Station Naval Fund, Admiral's House, Cooperage Bombay.—Yours, etc.,

STARVING BRITISH AT RUHLEBEN.

MEDICAL REPORT.

DIET INSUFFICIENT TO MAINTAIN LIFE.

Investigations officially made by Dr. A. E. Taylor, an American medical man, into the food of the British subjects interned at Ruhleben, show that the diet provided by the German authorities is insufficient to maintain life. Dr. Taylor's report to the United States Ambassador in Berlin is published in the form of a White Paper.

Dr. Taylor lays down what he considers to be a minimum diet for an adult male not engaged in hard work, the figures being supplied largely by German investigators. This consists of protein 70-90 grammes per day, carbo-hydrate to a value of 3,000 or more calories per day depending on the work done, at least 25 to 50 grammes of fat per day, salts and vitamines, i.e., substances found in fresh food and known to be essential to life. This minimum is looked upon as enough to keep a man nourished "like a machine." It omits the vital questions of variety and choice and taste altogether, says "The Times."

Dr. Taylor surveyed the prisoners' diet during seven days, and he comments as follows:—

If all the men in the camp had taken their numerical share of the food offered, the average daily input per man would have been 60 grammes of protein, 13 grammes of fat, 308 grammes of carbohydrate corresponding to 1,590 calories. - - - -

Happily all the men did not ask for their rations, and so those who did ask got a trifle more. This, however, is the conclusion:—

It is equally clear that the food provided and served during the week of the survey was not sufficient in any direction to provide nourishment for the 3,700 men concerned, had they been entirely dependent upon it.

Fresh fish was served on three days of the survey. On one day it was in sufficient quantity, but on the first and third days the supply ran out with 100 and 250 men still in line. "These men were then provided with tinned fish, which many of them refused." The refusal is not surprising in view of the following:—

The camp possesses a stock of "Brathering" in large tins. Upon one occasion I witnessed the opening of 17 of these tins. Five of the tins were distended with gas, which rushed out when the tins were punctured. The contents of these tins were found to be in a state of advanced putrefaction. The contents of the other tins were not putrefied, but could not be regarded as in a satisfactory condition. I believe that this lot of herring should be condemned.

The supplies from abroad are deficient in fat, the article which is most necessary in view of the small quantity supplied. Dr. Taylor says that:—

It is clear that there is in Great Britain a complete and, from the standpoint of the prisoners in Ruhleben, most lamentable lack of organization in the selection of foodstuffs and distribution of food packages for these prisoners.

There is much duplication, the wrong things are sent, and the hardship is great,—for the figures given above show that on the diet supplied in the camp men cannot live, though some are endeavouring to do so as best they can, and with a heroic sense of duty which is tragic.

Dr. Taylor makes a number of suggestions, some of which are addressed to the authorities and societies in this country. These are:—A better organization, more central and more scientific in its methods, and "from the British side per man per day, each day in the week, 400 grammes white bread, 30 grammes butter or margarine, 50 grammes bacon, 50 grammes sugar, 30 grammes jam or conserves, 30 grammes Quaker oats, and 30 grammes condensed milk; tea and coffee as needed."

In his reply to Mr. Page, Sir Edward Grey "fears that the circumstances will not permit of the adoption in practice of the recommendations made by Dr. Taylor in regard to the establishment of an organization controlling the supply of food parcels sent to the camp from this country," but promises to see that the recommendations are made known among the various societies and individuals by whom such parcels are now being dispatched to Ruhleben.

CAUTION In order to assure oneself against all frauds and imitation obtain the Original & Genuine ROSKOPF watches which have obtained several Medals & Awards every purchaser must see that they bear the trade-mark as shown here, and must ALSO examine minutely that there is only one S in the name Roskopf and that there are no initials whatever either before or after the name Roskopf, nor are there any such words or indications as "& Co.," "& Cie.", or "System," within or around the trade-mark of the Genuine Roskopf watches.

ROSKOPF PATENT SWISS MADE

Some of the unscrupulous imitators are trying to deceive the public by affixing on very inferior qualities of watches even concocted and illusory names like "Ruskope," "Roskope," "Roscope" and such others which have no existence at all, but still the substantial good qualities of the Genuine Roskopf watches are gaining so much appreciation all over different parts of the world that they raise the envy and jealousy of rival manufacturers, and it is against such artful deceptions that it has become necessary for the purchasers to protect themselves by very careful and minute examination of the Roskopf trade-mark as herein indicated and for which we are obliged to give this warning.

Sole Agents—ABRECHT & O.,
